THE WORK OF CONGRESS

Some of the Measures Passed Within a Month.

NEEDED MILITARY LEGISLATION.

Recruits for the Army Must be American Citizens and Able to Read, Write and Speak the English Language—Important Investigations by the Labor Committee.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—The last month of the present session of congress excepting the ten days during which the tariff bill has been in the president's hands have been fairly productive of general legislation.

All of the appropriation bills have now become laws. The general deficiency and the sundry civil bills were both signed late in the session, and the latter measure embraces two important pieces of legislation, the appropriation of $200,000 for a government exhibit at the Cotton States exposition to be held at Atlanta and the cession to each of the arid land states and the states which may be formed from the territories of 1,000,000 acres each of desert lands for reclamation, a plan which is intended to advance the movement for irrigation in the west and to partially take the place of the scheme for irrigation by the general government, which has been fostered by the western members.

The only financial measure which has been enacted by the Fifty-third congress, except the repeal of the purchasing clause of the Sherman act, became a law on the 15th. It was the bill introduced by Representative Cooper, of Indiana, to subject to state and municipal taxation national bank notes and United States treasury notes under the same provisions by which gold, silver and other money is taxed. It is left optional with the states, however, to tax those heretofore exempted forms of money.

Among the acts of the session relating to the military none were more important than the plan fathered by Representative Curtis, of New York, which recently became a law, regulating enlistments in the regular army upon new principles, most important of which are that recruits in time of peace must be citizens of the United States, or have declared their intention to become citizens, must be able to read, write and speak the English language and be under 30 years of age. To promote the efficiency of the naval militia, a comparatively new branch of the volunteer service, congress authorized the temporary loan to any state making application for it, of any vessel of the navy which was not fitted for regular service.

Two important laws relating to the life saving service were enacted, one providing that the stations on the Atlantic and gulf coasts shall be manned from the 1st of August to the 1st of the June following, and those on the lakes from the opening to the close of navigation. The law relating to the barratry on the high seas was so amended as to make imprisonment for life or for a term of years the punishment in certain cases.

The contest between the interior department and the railroads operating in Oklahoma, which has been a subject one, was finally settled by the enactment of a law compelling the roads to maintain depots and stations at all town sites on the lines established by the department. An act was passed extending from four to five years the limit of time within which final proof may be made by settlers who have declared their intention of taking up desert lands. Another law in the interest of western settlers was one enabling those who desire to locate on other than mineral lands to secure a survey by deposiiting with the government a sum sufficient to cover the cost of the survey.

Two most important investigations desired by the house committee on labor have been authorized. One is for an investigation into the effects of machinery on labor, with reference to its productive power and effects upon wages, hours of work and employment of women and children and the conditions under which they work. Both inquiries will be conducted by the commissioner of labor.

Robbers Make a Big Haul.

HAZLETON, Pa., Aug. 27.—There is an epidemic of robbery prevailing in this vicinity among the foreign classes, and despite the vigilance of the authorities no clew to the prepetrators has been discovered. The character of the raids and their frequency indicate that an organized gang is doing the work. The boarding house of George Trintok, at Honey Brook, was ransacked from cellar to garret. Everything of value was removed, and this without disturbing any of the ten inmates. It is supposed that chloroform was used by the marauders. The robbers secured $1,100 in cash, besides seven suits of clothing and other articles of value.

The Doctors Endorse It.

At a regular meeting of the Genesee County (N. Y.) Medical Society, the physicians of the county passed a vote of thanks for samples of Gilmore's Aromatic Wine, which had been presented to the society, and said that they recognized the remedy as being adapted to a large class of summer diseases. Physicians everywhere recommend this excellent medicine, especially to their lady patients. Sold by all druggists for $1.00 per bottle.

Sudden Death of a Railroad Magnate.

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 27.—John Newell, president and general manager of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern railroad, died at Youngstown, O., at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon of apoplexy, aged 64. Mr. Newell was at Pittsburg Saturday, and on his way from that city to Cambridgeboro, Pa., for a few days' rest when he was taken ill. When his special car reached Youngstown, he was too ill to proceed further. A physician was called and he was removed to the hotel. He was then seized with apoplexy, his left side being paralyzed. Physicians were summoned from this city and Pittsburg, but they could do nothing for him.

Driven Insane by Religion.

PLAINFIELD, N. J., Aug. 27.—Mrs. Lines, the wife of a well known business man, is confined at her home in a straitjacket, suffering from a sudden attack of insanity. She went to church and listened to a sermon on future punishment. She began to grow moody in spite of all attempts to cheer her up. The next that was noticed of her trouble was when she picked up her child, 6 weeks old, and threw it on the floor violently. She then attacked her five other children, but was hindered from doing them harm. She will be sent to an asylum.

Two Young Girls Drowned.

READING, Pa., Aug. 27.—The bodies of two young women drowned in the Schuylkill river by the capsizing of a rowboat, which was struck by a steamboat containing an excursion party late Saturday night, were recovered yesterday. Their names are Lottie Lindenuth and Lizzie Romberger, each aged 16 years. Their companions, Walter Schmehl, aged 14, and Clara Gehret, were re-cued. Miss Gehret was revived with the greatest difficulty.

May Resume with Non-Unionists.

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 27.—News received from the Massilton coal field is to the effect that the miners have refused to accept the ultimatum of the operators which provided that they should resume work today upon a schedule of wages based on the Columbus scale. It is believed that the operators will resume work with non-union men. The miners of the Massillon district number about 3,000, and have been on strike since Feb. 17.

Will Not Oppose Governor Waite.

PUEBLO, Colo., Aug. 27.—John C. Bell, of Montrose, Populist member of congress from the Second congressional dirtrict, publishes a statement that he cannot be a candidate for governor, and will not allow the use of his name at the state convention here Sept. 4. His statement practically leaves the way clear for Waite's nomination, as no other man has been prominently urged in opposing the present incumbent.

A Trivial Quarrel Ends in Murder.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Aug. 27.—In the little town of Pine, Tenn., William Shaw and Bob Constor, brothers-in law, had a difficulty over an ax. Shaw shot Constor through the cheek, the ball passing under the tongue. In the meantime Henry Constor, Bob's brother, came running up, it is supposed to interfere. Shaw opened fire on, Henry shooting him through the stomach and killing him instantly. Shaw escaped.

THE KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—An unwelcome house warming was given the Knights of Pythias encamped in the "white city" of tents around the Washington monument yesterday afternoon. It came in the form of a fierce thunder shower, which swept over the city almost without warning, and then settled into a steady rain until sunset. Several tents were dismantled by the sheets of rain which beat against them, and the lightning was unpleasantly sharp. All of the discomforts incidental to the storm were accompanied in hilarious mood by the knights, however, and they made fun under the canvases, as well as outside, after the first drenching wave of rain had passed over. Special trains were pulling into the depots, and the brilliantly uniformed commands in scarlet, blue and white were marching up Pennsylvania avenue through the rain, many displaying handsome banners.

Particularly striking was the Florida phalanx, presenting a gleaming array of white duck trousers and carrying at the head of the line the most famous product of their state, a stuffed alligator, rampant. In the face of the weather hundreds of residents flocked to inspect the camp during the day, trooping through the avenues of tents and crowding about the goats and other paraphernalia, animate and inanimate, brought by the westerners. Fine discipline was maintained in the encampment, something like martial regulations being enforced. Three thousand men slept on the light cots under canvas last night, while uniforms are the rule rather than the exception on the streets.

The most heavily gilt laced of the regalia was to be found at the Ebbit House, where headquarters have been established by Major General Carnahan, where the citizens' committeemen also congregate, and where every stanger is greeted by his acquantances with an official title.

Among the prominent divisions which arrived yesterday were those from New York, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, St. Joseph, Chicago and Colorado.

President Cleveland has definitely promised to review the grand parade tomorrow. A reviewing stand will be erected for him in front of the executive mansion. A stand is being erected by the treasury in which seats will be reserved for senators, representatives and other government officials and members of the diplomatic corps.

Fatally Beaten by Her Worthless Husband

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Aug. 27.—The wife of Joseph Miller, a dissolute character, is dying at the hospital from injuries sustained at her husband's hands. A young girl named Lizzie Williams came down from Pittston and called on the Miller family. The demonstrations of affection became so pronounced between the husband and the girl from Pittston that the wife objected. This angered the husband, who knocked her down with a chair and beat her brutally. Five of her ribs are broken, her face is battered almost beyond recognition and she is so badly injured internally that she cannot recover. Miller is in jail.

New Bedford Strikers Encouraged.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Aug. 27.—The police officials were notified by the management of the Bristol mill last night that their attendance at the mill gates today would not be needed, as no attempt would be made to run the mills. The operatives held a mass meeting at 6:30 a. m. in the vicinity of the mill, in order to give the weak hearted courage. The utmost quiet prevails among the strikers. It is almost an assured fact that three more of the large yarn corporations will start up this week at the old rate of wages.

Destructive Forest Fires.

HARRISVILLE, Mich., Aug. 27.—Heavy forest fires are raging throughout Algona county, doing great damage to lumber mills and standing pine, destroying crops of all kinds and burning the homes of many settlers. The fires were started early last week in the huckleberry swamps, in the interior, by berry pickers. There has been no rain in six weeks. Everything is dry as tinder and a stiff wind would set the whole country aflame.

Struck His Superior Officer.

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—Colonel R. E. A. Crofton, commanding the Fifteenth United States infantry, was struck in the face yesterday by First Lieutenant B. C. Welsh, of Company E, Fifteenth regiment. Colonel Crofton was engaged changing guard mount. It is said the attack of Lieutenant Welsh was entirely unprovoked on the part of Colonel Crofton. Welsh was placed under arrest and will be tried before a court martial.

New Hampshire Spinners on Strike.

DOVER, N. H., Aug. 27.—The mule spinners of Dover, New Market, Great Falls and Salmon Falls held a meeting in this city yesterday afternoon. Secretary Ross of New Bedford, was present. The outsiders urged the Dover spinners to strike and they finally consented, though it was against their first intentions. They decided not to go to work today, and the works are idle.

DEATH IN A CYCLONE.

Terrible Destruction on the Sea of Azov and Inland.

FULLY A THOUSAND LIVES LOST.

This Does Not Include Those Undoubtedly Lost on the Sea—Flood Devastates a Valley in India, but the Activity of Government Officials Prevents Loss of Life.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 27.—A wind of death. No other name can describe the cyclone that swept across the Sea of Azov Saturday. It will be impossible for days yet to compute the damage done, but it is almost certain that at least 1,000 people have perished, some by drowning, others by being crushed under falling houses and trees. The excitement is great among the American colony in this city, for it is feared that at least two parties of American tourists were on the Sea of Azov at the time the wind did its deadly work.

There has been a stream of callers at the office of the American minister, asking, almost begging, for news from Odessa whence the tourists were to have started on the regular sightseeing trip across the Crimea, visiting Sebastopol, Balaklava and the other famous battle scenes. The parties were separate, but it is probable that they started within twelve hours of each other, and according to the schedule of these excursions they would have reached the Strait of Kertch Saturday morning, thence to go by steamboat north to Berdiansk, where they would take the train back to Odessa.

It is said that the leader of one of these parties had proposed a trip a short distance north from Temriuk into the land of the Black Cossacks. If his party branched off in that way they have unquestionably perished, for the hurricane ravished almost the entire east shore of the Sea of Azov. Everybody is praying that some lucky chance delayed the excursionists.

At a late hour there was still only a general report of the disaster on which to base surmises of the Americans' safety. This report recounts wide havoc. The wind was first felt at Nogaisk. Nogaisk is peopled mostly by fishermen, who were out on water. When the hurricane had swept out to the north a terrible scene was presented. The village was razed, overturned, as if an immense plow had been pushed through it. Lying every where were women and children, dead or in the last agonies of death. The shallow waters of the Sea of Azov was lashed into such a height that it was plain that every fishing boat must have been sunk.

The cyclone swept on to the northeast after wrecking Nogaisk. Its path seem to have been unusually wide, for at Marinopal it devastated the country to a point eleven miles inland, and had its outer edge far upon the sea. Marinopal was practically blotted out of existence. Not three houses in a hundred are left standing. It is estimated that over 200 perished in this town alone. North of Marinopal the storm seems to have made a sudden turn to eastward over Dolga Points, its left edge inflicting slight damage to the town of Berdinsk. Houses there were unroofed and a dozen persons were killed by falling timbers.

At sea the storm made its full fury felt. Of the steamers that touch at the port of Berdinsk not one had come in at the hour of the latest report. Grave fears are expressed that every craft in the sea has gone to the bottom and that every passenger is drowned.

When the wind swept over the northern end of Azov it took a new course, going southerly along the coast of the land of the Black Cossacks. In turn Eisk and Achuev were ravaged, each town being almost totally destroyed.

Telegraphic communication with the district is suspended, and it is impossible to learn the extent of the destruction, but at least 1,000 persons must have died on the two shores. The storm as nearly as can now be learned seemed to suddenly lose its force near Temriuk, and passed off, with comparative quiet, southerly over the Black sea.

VILLAGERS WIPED OUT BY FLOOD

Government Officials' Forethought Prevented Appalling Loss of Life.

SIMLA, India, Aug. 27.—Gobna lake which for some time past has threatened to break its bounds and sweep down the valley at the head of which it lies, has broken the dam which controlled the waters. Thousands of tons of water poured through the valley like a cataract sweeping everything before it. Huge boulders were swept along like pebbles, trees were uprooted and carried on the crest of the flood, and villages along the valley were swept out of existence an instant after the roaring torrent of whirled waters struck them.

The rainfall during the monsoon has been noticeably heavy, and the lake rose with great rapidity. The percolation at the dam became very heavy, and the engineers who examined it decided that its breakage was imminent. To repair it was impossible, and the government therefore took steps to prevent any loss of life when the break came. Elaborate railway and telegraph arrangements were made, and when it became known that the dam would go out the people nearest the point of danger were carried by the railways to places of safety, while those further down the valley were notified to pack up their belongings and be prepared to leave their homes when called upon by the government to do so.

The call was soon issued, and the people were taken away, so that when the flood came the valley was deserted by everybody. To this wise foresight of the government is due the fact that great loss of life was not caused by the flood.

Honest.

In these days of adulteration and fraud, in all branches of business and pursuits, it is pleasing to know that there is one medicine prepared which is strictly pure. Such a medicine is Sulphur Bitters in curing scrofula; you can depend on them every time. W. B. Everts, A. M., Charleston S. C.

SERIOUS TROLLEY ACCIDENT.

A Baby's Arm Torn off and Ten Other Persons Seriously Injured.

ORANGE, N. J., Aug. 27.—An accident occurred last evening on the electric line of the Suburban Traction company, near Eagle Rock, a well known pleasure resort, by which a number of persons were injured. As far as can be learned those hurt are:

Johnny Lloyd 4 years old, of Orange, right arm taken off at the elbow; Mrs. Frank Davys, of Broomfield, arm broken; George Coyle, 6 years old, of Newark, several ribs broken; R. Botter, of Orange, cut on head; two babies named Cole, badly cut and bruised; Mrs John Lloyd, badly cut, bruised and leg sprained; Mrs. Margaret Hallahan, of Orange, severely bruised about chest; Mrs. Mary Flannery, of Orange, arm very severely sprained; Mrs. Michael Finneran, of Orange, very severely cut; William Floyd, of Newark, badly cut and bruised.

Eagle Rock is at the top of Orange mountain. It is approached by a road two miles long, with a long and continuous grade. In some parts the grade is almost sixty feet to the mile.

Shortly before 5 o'clock car No. 8, filled to the doors with men and women, many of the former hanging to the platforms, was going down the grade when the motorman found the brake would not work. The car rapidly gained momentum and was soon dashing along at a very rapid rate of speed.

The passengers were not long in finding out that something was wrong, and the women and children began to scream. Before any one had time to jump the front wheels of the forward truck struck a bend in the road. The car was going too fast for the wheels to follow the tracks, and it leaped from the track, turning completely over. The passengers were piled in a heap. The broken glass of the windows and doors, scattered through the crowd, caused many injuries.

THE MURDERED MISSIONARY

China Will Avenge the Death of Rev. James Wylie.

TIENTSIN, Aug. 27.—An imperial edict has been issued in connection with the outrages perpetrated on missionaries and the murder of Rev. James Wylie, a Presbyterian missionary who was recently killed at Liao-Yang by Chinese soldiers who were marching to Corea. The edict condemns the Chinese officers responsible for the good conduct of the troops, and orders that the actual murderers be beheaded. It is furthered ordered that the chapels which have been destroyed be rebuilt at the expense of the people in the localities where the outrages were committed and the compensation be paid to the relatives of Mr. Wylie. The Tsung Li-Yamen, or supreme council, and Viceroy Li Hung Chang have expressed deep regret to the British minister because of the outrages.

General Yeh, with 4,000 men, has effected a junction with the Chinese main body at Ping Yang. The remainder of the force, under General Nieh, is expected to arrive at Ping Yang today.

The retreat from Asan was brilliantly carried out. The troops marched miles through a difficult country, although they were harrassed by the enemy along the whole route. They succeeded in breaking through the Japanese lines at Chunghwa.

China is to address a note to the powers protesting against the king of Corea declaring his independence. Several of the powers are likely to recognize the justice of protest because they are certain that the declaration was made under Japanese compulsion after the king was captured and that it was antedated to make it appear voluntary.

Mr. Morton and New York's Governorship

NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Among the passengers who arrived on the French line steamer La Normandie yesterday was the Hon. Levi P. Morton. In reply to a query he said: "I can only say that, although I have no desire to re-enter public life, I have received so many letters from personal and political friends in different parts of the state urging me to allow the use of my name as a candidate for governor that I shall feel it due to them and the Republican party, which has so highly honored me in the past, to give the question serious consideration." Senator Wolcott, of Colorado, was also a passenger on the La Normandie.

A Police Official Murdered.

MENTONE, Aug. 27.—Considerable excitement has been occasioned in official circles by a murder committed here yesterday. M. Hausset, secretary to the police commissary, while entering his house was shot by an at unknown man. Very few people were in the vicinity of the house at the time the crime was committed, and the murderer effected his escape unmolested. It is supposed that the shooting was done in revenge by an anarchist, as that gentry are indignant because of the long and short visits of the police.

LIVED A DOUBLE LIFE.

CASE OF DR. JEKYLL AND MR. HYDE

A Young Man, Holding a Responsible and Lucrative Position in the Day Time, Becomes a Bandit by Night, and Finally a Murderer.

CHICAGO, Aug. 27.—Two desperadoes held up a Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul freight train just over the county line, killed Railroad Detective Patrick Owens, and robbed the conductor and escaped. Officer McGrath was probably fatally shot while trying to catch them, and a force of police and civilians only captured them in a woods after the exchange of a hundred shots and a six hours' chase.

The desperadoes fought off the bluecoats and excited civilian participants in the man hunt until their ammunition was exhausted and then, unable to reply to the fire that was poured in upon them, sought safety in flight. Bullets from the officers' revolvers brought both men to the earth and when the police apprehended the men they were weak from the loss of blood.

As soon as the wounded men were taken in charge the infuriated citizens demanded that the wounded men be immediately deprived of their lives. The officers were forced to draw their revolvers to save the men. The crowds made desperate attempts to get the bandits from the police, but each time they were replused without bloodshed. Police Inspector Schaack took charge of the prisoners and started at once for the West Avenue station with them. There the desperadoes gave their names as Will Lake and H. F. Gorman.

Lake, who is about 24 years old, was shot in the neck and his recovery is doubtful. He admitted killing the detective and policeman. The other robber was not dangerously wounded.

The man giving his name as Gorman has been identified by responsible parties as H. E. Griswold, a well-to-do local inspector of the Manchester Assurance company. It appears to be a case of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde. Griswold had no need to steal or shoot his fellowmen, but he did it apparently because he loved the mystery and excitement of such a life. Crime has apparently become a pastime with him, and he is supposed to have found an apt pupil in Lake, a poor unemployed laborer. During the day time Griswold filled the important position of fire risk inspector, which he used as a cloak for his marauding excursions during the night.

About five years ago Griswold married a country girl, and she became Mrs. Gordon, not Griswold. Since then they have lived in various parts of Chicago, their last residence being at 13 Curtis street. Yesterday the timid, frightened wife called at the police station and gave her name as Gordon, saying she never knew her husband by any other name. It is believed that the police department, with the help of the railroad companies, are running to earth in this dual arrest a long train of depredations of which Griswold is the center.

The story of Griswold's life, so far as known, is unique. Born almost twenty-eight years ago, his father tried to give him a fair education, but the boy's instincts were wild and lawless. He eventually disappeared from home, and was next heard of in the west as a cowboy and ranchman. After several years of adventurous life in California, Oregon and Idaho he came to Illinois and secured employment as a brakeman at Rock Island, Ills. While there he married, and with the influence of his wife began to live a quieter life. His father, who is a traveling inspector for the Home Fire Insurance company of New York, noting the improvement in his behavior, used his influence to secure the son a position with the local office of the Manchester Assurance company.

Young Griswold grew proficient in his new position and soon drew a handsome salary. However, the reformation was not complete, but just when Griswold began his double career, while in the employ of the Assurance company, is not known. Further disclosures are expected at the inquest over the remains of Detective Owens, which has been postponed for a week to permit the police to make a full investigation of Griswold's and Lake's careers.

Lake, who was so desperately wounded in the raid, is feeling better today. It is said that he came of a good family, and that his father is William Lake, of Oswego, N. Y., a traveling man for a New York newspaper. Lake is a casket trimmer, and had been out of work for months, and he and his wife were on the verge of starvation.

Hood's Has Wrought Wonders.

"Hood's Sarsaparilla has wrought wonders with me. I have had the grip every spring for three years and last spring it left me with a cough and I could hardly walk. I used two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and was cured. In fact, Hood's Sarsaparilla is our cure all and it is the best blood purifier I know of." William D. Huntley, Mexico, N.Y.

Hood's Pills cure indigestion.

Dr. Hand's Diarrhœa Mixture.

"My baby is subject to severe attacks of diarrhœa. During the last sickness, Dr. Hand's Diarrhœa Mixture was freely given and an immediate cure resulted. It would have required a dozen visits of a physician as on former occasions. I believe Dr. Hand's Remedies would have saved the life of the child I lost, had they been within my reach at the time of its sickness." Mrs. F. H. Bennett, 722 New street, Camdem, N. J. Sold at all drug stores, 25 cents.

THE WAR AND THE MISSIONS.

Where They Are Located and the Possible Danger to Them.

Every one interested in mission work in eastern Asia will watch with concern the war which has just broken out, anxious lest any personal friends be in danger and mission enterprises be seriously hampered. The fact that all three countries involved are mission fields and that the prominent cities of all are occupied with a greater or less force of missionaries makes it necessary to look at the situation fairly and candidly.

In Korea the Presbyterian board occupies Seoul, Fusan and Gensan on the east coast and Pyeng-Yang in the interior. Of these Fusan and Gensan are the only places liable to injury from the Japanese fleet. But the work in both places is comparatively recent and not so well established as at Seoul. The Methodist board has little established work outside of Seoul and has withdrawn all its missionaries from the interior stations to that city.

The Society For the Propagation of the Gospel, Church of England, has some missionaries at Seoul and Chemulpo. In Seoul the missionaries are practically safe, being under the care of the United States legation and the protection of United States soldiers from the ship-of-war at Chemulpo, the port of Seoul. So far as Korea is concerned, therefore, there need be no great anxiety.

In Japan the principal port that may fear attack from the Chinese fleet is Nagasaki, occupied by the Reformed (Dutch) church, the Methodist Episcopal church and the Church Missionary society of England. It is probable, however, according to the latest reports, that the foreign fleets will protect this city, and thus the missionaries there need fear no attack. The same may be said of Yokohama and Tokyo, where almost all of the missionary boards are represented.

Attention will be especially attracted to China, for there, aside from the danger of injury from the Japanese fleets, there is the still greater danger of injury from the hostility of the people. The action of the foreign governments in enforcing the neutrality of the ports of Amoy, Canton, Ningpo, Chin-Kiang, Fuchau, Shanghai, Hankow and Tientsin, all of which are mission stations, relieves the situation very much, as there are very few other cities along the coast that might suffer from an attack, almost the only one of importance being Chefu, where the Presbyterian church and the China Inland mission have a large force of laborers and considerable property.

The greatest danger, however, to the missionaries, as we have said, is not from the Japanese fleets, but from the hostility of the Chinese to all foreigners without drawing distinction between Europeans and Americans on the one hand and the hated Japanese.—Independent.

A MYSTERIOUS PROJECTILE.

At a Recent Test In Russia It Produced Amazement Among the Experts.

The so called magnetic shell, which has been used at the trials of English armor plates at Okhta, near St. Petersburg, has made an extraordinary record. The shell was fired at soft St. Chamond plate at right angles, and the penetration was 10½ inches. Another shell penetrated 16 inches. One shell was discharged at a 6 inch Harveyized plate at an angle of 20 degrees. The projectile passed through the plate and backing and fell about 400 yards beyond, a performance which filled the scientific experts present with amazement.

Further trials will be made, but for the present no plates of the requisite strength are forthcoming, those already used, which were manufactured specially for the purposes of the trial, being so shattered as to be useless for future tests. The general impression among military experts is that the magnetic shell is not a new shell at all, but simply a new invention adaptable to any modern projectile.

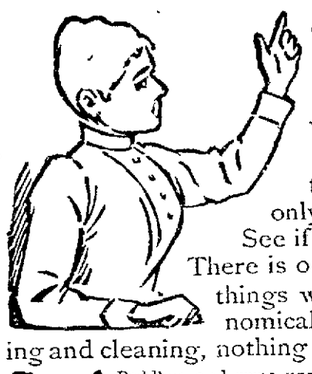
One of the shells that had undergone the secret process was exhibited. Although it had passed through one of the armor plates, it was in an undamaged condition, and as it showed no traces of fastening whereby the new invention could be attached to it the spectators concluded that the improvement must be a cap of softer metal held on to the top of the shell by magnetism. This nurses the hard point of the shell at the impact and so helps it to penetrate the surface of the plate until it reaches the softer metal behind. This, at all events, is one of the guesses at the principle of the novel projectile.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Sage and Gould Are Out.

Russell Sage and George Gould are said to have disagreed of late, and their relations in a business way are so severely strained that there may be an open rupture at any moment. The Gould and Sage interests have always been closely united. George Gould's wife and his sister Helen, seconded by the family physician, have, so runs the story, induced him to give up working as hard as he has been doing and to take life easier. The purchase of the Vigilant was in furtherance of this plan. Sage, whose whole being is wrapped up in money making, has no sympathy with this programme and is much displeased at young Gould's long absence in the present critical condition of business affairs.—Washington Post.

Atlanta's Sensation.

The sensation in Atlanta is the preaching of a 13-year-old negro boy, Charles Johnson of Gibbs, La. He is of a light ginger cake color. He was converted, he says, at the age of 8 and felt an immediate call. He is now going to a theological seminary, where he is taking a course in Bible study. He has none of the awkwardness of youth, and his voice is peculiarly deep. His thoughts are of a high character and are expressed in excellent language.—Atlanta Constitution



P-e-a-r-l-i-n-e.

This is the way we spell it. It's necessary to mention it, because some women don't seem to know. We find so many who say they use Pearline, and then, upon examination, find that what they are using is only some imitation of it.

See if your package is marked as above. There is only one Pearline. It makes white things whiter—bright things brighter—economical and saves at every point. For washing and cleaning, nothing under any other name can equal it.

Send it Back Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, and if your grocer sends you something in place of Pearline, be honest—send it back. 414 JAMES PYLE, N. Y.

"America's Greatest Men and Women."

AMERICA'S GREATEST MEN AND WOMEN.

MR. WILSON TALKS.

MY Name is Wilson; I do an insurance business on LaSalle street, in Chicago Ill., and I live in Evanston, Ill. Evanston is what was originally a scattering population on a pretty point on Lake Michigan, esteemed years ago far from the city of Chicago, but now one of the varied towns which may go within it by vote of the population.

I am married and have a wife and one child. That child is a boy (I suppose I should feel the same solicitude if it was a girl), and I have a father's natural fancies as to what must be the best thing to give that child the right kind of intelligence, and so divert his course that he may succeed in life. I have studied a great deal upon the subject. My own experience would not be of great value, because I have succeeded only to the limit of the average man and am barely established; still, I own the house and lot upon which I live, and am feeling perfectly safe in meeting the exigencies of the year. I want the boy to take a broader view than I did, to be a bigger man in the world. I have studied how to teach him to do that, and he has done pretty well, as far as the preliminaries go. Now, I have thought over what I should say to him and have sometimes been puzzled. I could not very well tell him what to do. I wanted to tell him what I needed but what I did not learn myself when I was of his age, and what my father did not know how to tell me, or else was not thoughtful enough to do so. I wanted to tell him how to follow the example of those who have succeeded at the present time and under the circumstances which ordinarily affect a young man struggling in this Republic established on this comparatively new world to-day. I wanted to tell him just what he had better do to get along well, and to point out to him what had been done by the people who were successful at the present time.

Of course, the record of the people of any time past would not be of so much value, because circumstances must necessarily have been different when they were alive. I feel confident, though, that if I could learn, some way and somehow, what the people who are so successful to day have done and how they did it, I could give to my boy such advice as would make his own life at least as far removed from failure as justified by the natural ability he may possess.

I looked around for some authority which I might consult in order to give him the facts most essential with this idea of mine in mind, but I could find no one until I discovered that a great publishing firm in Chicago had decided to bring out a book giving the photographs of all the people who are prominent in America to-day. Here was what I wanted. The book, as I have learned, is going to be published in 16 parts, 16 pages to each, with a recent photograph on each page of some active leading American man or woman of to-day, while underneath appears the story of that same person's life—the story telling what that person did, and how the ends attained were eventually accomplished. Here was what I wanted; here was what I needed in various ways; here was what I was certainly seeking in order to obtain the information with which to educate my boy and secure for him that knowledge which will give him a source of thought and make him prominent in the world.

I have the first sheets of this work. It is a graphic story of America's Greatest Men and Women, told in each instance on a single page underneath a photograph of recent date, which conveys to the eye an idea of what that person is. To me the photograph tells even more than the suggestive record beneath; and yet it is odd how in each instance the correct story corresponds with the expression upon the face which is reproduced in the portrait above. I do not know how the series will end. I know very little about this new feature of the newspaper people; I know nothing about the publishers and their expectations, but I do know this: that if the series so begun should be continued to its practical, ordinary good sense end—and I don't care whether that will include 200 or 700 of America's Greatest Men and Women, which is the title of the book—I do know this, that for the ordinary, active and alert business man—I will certainly say far more for the student or the literary man, or the politician or the statesman—for all these I will say it will be simply the most valuable and the most remarkable book produced in modern history. The wonder is that some one has not thought of it before. Yet no one seems to have done so since the days of Plutarch. Plutarch knew something. That shrewd old fellow knew that all who would get out of the drift, all who would accomplish great things, wanted to know every detail of the lives of those who had better luck or more courage or a broader brain than their fellows; but I am no authority on these points. I only know that there is produced a second Plutarch's Lives, that its biographies are shrewd, graphic and curt, and written without bias and without prejudice. I only know that there was a Plutarch—God bless the old fellow—and that there is this modern work.

This is the work I am going to give to my boy. I am going to make him read it thoroughly. The work is announced as consisting of 16 Parts, with 16 pages and 16 photographs in each part, and when bound, the whole series will make a great volume of 256 pages, the like of which has never been equaled. It is the story of the personal character of the men and women who are making the nation's history at this particular time. What a work this is! Do you imagine that I would miss it for my boy, or, incidentally, for myself?

MURDERED BY MISTAKE.

An Extraordinary Story of a Father Who Killed His Son For Another.

An extraordinary story is reported from Tarnopol, in Galicia. A peasant named Adam Gawrydo, whose property is in a small village near Zbaraz, in Galicia, cut his own son's throat with a kitchen knife by mistake. Some weeks ago a Hebrew merchant, Solomon Barb, bought old Gawrydo's stock of honey and paid 50 florins in advance to make the bargain valid. When the time for delivering the honey came, the peasant declared that he could not keep his word and was prepared to pay any damages to the merchant that the rabbi might decide.

They both went to the rabbi, who said the peasant must pay the merchant 10 florins damages. This he did most willingly, and both went away together. On the way home they stopped at a wayside inn and did not leave it till night. It began to rain, and the peasant asked the merchant to pass the night in his house. The merchant accepted, and they went home together. The peasant prepared a bed of straw in the barn, and when the merchant had laid down went to his own room after carefully locking the barn door. This frightened the merchant so much that he got up, felt his way about until he found a second door, which was bolted from the inside, left the barn and started to walk back to the inn.

In the meantime the son of the peasant returned home half drunk, and finding the barn door open walked in and dropped on the bed of straw prepared for the stranger. He was soon fast asleep. The merchant on his way to the inn met a gendarme, who asked him where he was going so late. Barb told him all that had happened, and the gendarme, thinking he had a dangerous man before him who was lying to avoid suspicion, asked him to go with him to the peasant's house. There they found Gawrydo in the act of washing his hands, which were stained with blood. When he saw them he exclaimed, "Surely I killed you an instant ago!" The gendarme searched the house and in the barn found the son of the peasant dead, with his throat cut. The peasant was immediately arrested.—Vienna Cor. London News.

FRIENDLY POLITICAL RIVALS.

Governor Peck of Wisconsin Says a Good Word For His Opponent.

Major Bill Upham, the Republican nominee for governor, was the first outsider to put in an appearance at Phillips, the little town that has just been obliterated by fire. Walking among the ruins, he met the postmaster of the place. "What's become of your coat?" asked Upham. "Egad, I lost it in the fire," said the postmaster. "I haven't got a stitch of clothes except such as I have on now."

Bill whipped off his coat in a second. "Take my coat," says he. "I've got another at home. Take it, and when you get through with it pass it along to some other fellow that needs it."

An hour later Governor Peck arrived at Phillips, and the postmaster was telling him how Bill Upham had made him take and wear his coat, while he (Bill) was going around in his shirt sleeves.

"Yes, that's just like Bill," said Peck. "He has probably given away his shirt by this time, and his pantaloons, and his shoes and socks. Bill never stands around and lets other people suffer when he can help 'em. The chances are that by the time he gets ready to quit this place he'll have to walk to the train in a barrel."

This incident illustrates very fairly the kindly feeling that exists between the two gubernatorial candidates. To be sure, Peck has not yet been renominated, but his renomination seems a foregone conclusion.—Chicago Record.

A KINGDOM FOR SALE.

It Is Called Matupia and Is One of the Bismarck Group.

A genuine kingdom, with a capital, residence and seaport, is at present offered for sale in Berlin. It consists of a part of the island of Tatota and is called Matupia. The island is part of the Bismarck group between New Zealand and New Mecklenburg. The "empire" covers just seven square miles (German) and was purchased during the eighties by Herr Georg Weisser, a retired paymaster of the German navy and afterward director of the New Guinea company.

Herr Weisser had several bloody fights with his Samoan and Kanakan chiefs, but managed to quell all rebellions and become very popular with his subjects. He died last year, and his heirs, who reside at Kaiserlautern, do not wish to exercise their regal duties and have instructed their agents to sell the unique property. Matupia, the capital of the little kingdom, contains about 1,000 inhabitants, many of whom are Europeans. It is one of the best harbors in the archipelago.—Literary Digest.

A Queenly Service.

An attache of the Netherland legation recently persisted in keeping a crowing cock under the bedroom window of a neighbor, and all the power of English law was brought to bear in vain to secure an abatement of the nuisance. The diplomatic privileges of the owner protected him, and he defied his critics. The tortured man explained in court Monday how he finally triumphed. He could not have lived if the nuisance had continued, and not knowing what to do wrote to the queen of the Netherlands. The gracious young lady did not reply by letter, but the offending cock was immediately taken away. In that way he accomplished what the whole law of England could not do for him.—London Sun.

Learning From the Fly.

A Russian investigator sends to makers of flying machines information which he gained by observing the ordinary house fly. This insect, he says, beats its wings 30 times per second and travels 40 miles an hour.

A MILLION A YEAR.

This Vast Sum is Annually Expended in Advertising by one Concern.

Much has been written and said about advertisers and advertising, but it is perhaps not generally known that, not only is the greatest amount of advertising done in America, but that the largest personal advertiser is an American. Several houses, both in Europe and America, expend upwards of half a million dollars per year in advertising; but the advertiser referred to has actually expended during the past year over a million dollars wholly in advertising. This vast sum of money has not been squandered, but has been carefully, judiciously, scientifically expended, and it has paid a profit of fifty cents for every dollar expended.

Here is certainly a valuable lesson for those who advertise or have advertising in contemplation. It shows that half-hearted attempts at wooing the Goddess of Fortune by advertising are not profitable and that even extended efforts are unprofitable unless done systematically, scientifically and with the greatest care and judgment. It is not our purpose to give the name of this advertiser, who, besides being the largest one in the world, is certainly the most retiring and modest, but we may say, incidentally, that he is the projector of the pre-digested food, Paskola, which however, is only a small part of the business transacted by this concern. Men of this special genius are rare and the success which attends their efforts still rarer, but such success shows what can be accomplished by well conceived plans and superior effort.

Pittsburgers Win.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 27.—The road race from Buffalo to Pittsburg between teams of these two cities and Cleveland was won by George E. Williams, of Pittsburg. The Pittsburg team also won the trophy with a score of 30 out of 100. Cleveland scored 14 and Buffalo 0. Williams' time was 20 hours, 37 minutes. He broke his last year's record over the same course by more than three hours. C. G. Wallin, of Erie, came in second. In addition to these the following riders arrived during the twenty-four hours in the order named: Louis Grimm, Cleveland; C. M. Wakefield, Pittsburg; M. Mignerney, Buffalo; L. P. Dillon, Wheeling; J. R. Benz, Wheeling, North Westfield, N. Y.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 27.—A prominent Republican who was active in Kolb's interest during the recent campaign is authority for the statement that the Kolbites will, in November, when the legislature meets, convene a legislature of their own, elect a United States senator to succeed Morgan, who will, it is thought, be a Republican, and adjourn. They will then let their senator contest with Morgan, who will be re-elected to succeed himself.

Demonstration Against the Lords.

LONDON, Aug. 27.—Hyde Park yesterday was the scene of a "popular" demonstration against the house of lords. Those who took an actual part in the proceedings assembled on the Thames embankment and then marched in procession to the park, where eleven platforms had been erected. It is estimated that 70,000 persons were in the park, but the number was largely made up of curious onlookers, who took no part whatever in the proceedings. A joint resolution was adopted demanding that the "useless hereditary chamber" be abolished.

There is no doubt that the three men were drowned.

BAFFLING BURGLARS

SAFES AND LOCKS WHICH ARE PROOF AGAINST TAMPERERS.

Each Bank of England Lock Costs $375 and Has 362,880 Different Combinations. Elaborate Mechanism to Protect Treasure Vaults.

There is no denying the fact that the burglar of today, who aims at high game, displays amazing ingenuity in the manufacture of scientific tools and apparatus and also in the practical working of the same.

But he is completely out of the running when pitted against our safemakers and locksmiths, even though he periodically buys their wares for experimental purposes.

While the present writer was being "personally conducted" over the premises of the greatest firm of lockmakers in the world he acquired much interesting information concerning those wondrous pieces of mechanism which protect the vast riches of palaces, banks and strongrooms, and which render it absolutely impossible for thieves to break in.

Perhaps the most interesting department was that one in which an exhibition of the highest form of the burglar's craft was being given. Skilled workmen were seated before locked safes and were using the almost irresistible fusing apparatus on the door in order to reach the locks or were forcing gunpowder through the keyholes by means of a tiny pair of bellows.

Others were squirting corrosive chemicals into the locks and noting the effect, while sturdy artisans were using the drill and the wedge with a scientific force and skill that showed they could be dangerous enemies to society if they were criminally inclined.

The fusing apparatus consists of a cylinder of compressed oxygen gas, which supplies a short section of pipe terminating in an iron cup. The latter is pressed firmly against the door after a light has been applied, and a stream of flame issues from the end of the pipe in its bottom. So fierce is this flame that it melts the metal in the safe door and eats a jagged hole through it in a remarkably short space of time.

"We turn out about 288,000 locks every year," remarked the manager of the works, "and they range in weight from a quarter of an ounce—including key—to 228 pounds, the respective values of these extremes being 12 cents and $1,500.

"Foremost among those locks which protect enormous wealth come those on the treasury doors of the Bank of England. The making of each of these marvels of mechanism occupies three men for six weeks and costs $375.

"Those little fluted pieces of steel in the head of the key—technically called 'steps'—are nine in number and are capable of 362,880 different combinations.

"If a banker whose safe was fitted with this lock chanced to lose his key, or if he had reason to suppose that a wax impression of it had been made, all that would be necessary in order to baffle burglarious designs would be to unlock the safe with the duplicate key, unscrew the head and change the position of the steps and then relock the safe or strongroom.

"The mechanism of the lock would instantly adapt itself to the changed combination and could never be unlocked by the former key.

"This, however, is not an unmixed blessing. One afternoon a certain city merchant was amusing himself by unscrewing the steps of both his keys when it suddenly occurred to him that he had forgotten the combination.

"As the keys in question were capable of thousands of combinations, there was nothing for it but to set to work on a system of numbered tables and tick off each combination as it were tried.

"'But that may take months,' objected the merchant ruefully. Well, as the only other alternative was to build a furnace round the door of the safe it was decided to try the combination first.

"We sent two men and an apprentice with the printed tables—great sheets of paper several yards long—and after nine days' labor, during which about 13,000 different combinations were arranged and tried, the right one was hit upon by accident, and the door opened. Needless to say, there was a pretty big bill against the customer who gave us all this trouble.

"The treasury doors at the Bank of England measure 7 feet 3 and weigh about 2½ tons. Besides being fitted with the above mentioned changeable locks they have violence locks 5 feet long, each of which weighs 200 pounds, and gunpowder proof locks, having blowholes on every side, even through the massive bolt. These blow holes allow the gunpowder pumped in to escape and reduce the force of a possible explosion to a mere harmless puff.

"It is worthy of note that there are more than 10,000 locks fitted in the Bank of England. Then comes the Savoy hotel with 1,300, controlled by one master key. The manager of each of the six floors at the Savoy, however, has a master key which controls the lock of every room under his supervision.

"Her majesty's safe at Windsor castle in which the gold plate is kept weighs eight tons and is protected by a violence lock 18 inches long, a changeable lock and a gunpowder lock, all of which can be mechanically covered by an undrillable steel plate, which renders it impossible to insert even a hairpin into any of the keyholes."—London Answers.

HIGHER EDUCATION.

The Interesting Results of the Study of a Frog's Tiny Muscle.

The young man who has had the priceless experience of self abandonment to some happily chosen point was well illustrated in a man I knew, writes G. Stanley Hall in The Forum. With the dignity and sense of finality of the American senior year quick within him his first teacher in Germany told him to study experimentally one of the 17 muscles of a frog's leg. The mild dissipation of a somewhat too prolonged general culture, aided by some taste for breezy philosophic speculation, almost diverted him from so mean an object. But as he progressed he found that he must know in a more minute and practical way than before—in a way that made previous knowledge seem unreal—certain definite points in electricity, chemistry, mechanics, physiology, etc., and bring them to bear in fruitful relation to each other. As the winter proceeded the history of previous views was studied and broader biological relations seen, and as the summer waned and a second year was begun in the study of this tiny muscle it was seen that its laws are the same in frogs and men; that just such contractile tissue had done all that man had accomplished in the world, and that muscles are the only organs of the will. As the work went on many of the mysteries of the universe seemed to enter in his theme. In the study of this minute object he gradually passed from the attitude of Peter Bell, of whom the poet says:

> A primrose by a river's brim
> A yellow primrose was to him,
> And it was nothing more—

up to the standpoint of the seer who "plucked a flower from the crannied wall" and realized that could he but understand what it was, "root and all, and all in all, he would know what God and man is." Even if my friend had contributed nothing in discovery to the temple of science, he had felt the profound and religious conviction that the world is lawful to the core and had experienced what a truly liberal and higher education—in the modern as distinct from the mediæval sense—really is.

His Will.

The rich old man with a young wife was having a hard time trying to make her coincide with his idea of what her duties were with reference to himself.

"Madam," he exclaimed after a heated argument, "I tell you I shall mold you to my will."

"That's easy enough," she retorted. "Only make it in my favor, and I'll attend to the balance."—Detroit Free Press.

What Will Do It?

MEDICAL writers claim that the successful remedy for nasal catarrh must be non-irritating, easy of application, and one that will reach the remote sores and ulcerated surfaces.

The history of the efforts to treat catarrh is proof positive that only one remedy has completely met these conditions, and that is Ely's Cream Balm. This safe and pleasant remedy has mastered catarrh as nothing else has ever done, and both physicians and patients freely concede this fact. Our druggists keep it.

THE PRESIDENT COMING TO MIDDLETOWN.

The Sick May Receive Medical Services Free of Charge.

The President and members of the European and American Staff of German, English, Irish, Scandinavian and American Doctors of New York city will be at the Russell House, Middletown, on one day only. The sick and afflicted may consult them without charge during their stay.

Tuesday, August 28th,

If you are incurable they will tell you; therefore invalids must not take offence if they are rejected, as no case will be accepted unless there is a moral certainty of a cure being effected. These Doctors are graduates of the best universities of Europe and America; they are of the highest standing in the medical profession and have had unlimited experience in the treatment of all Chronic Diseases and Deformities. As the latest methods, instruments and appliances of the various schools of both the Old and the New World are familiar to and at the command of this staff of doctors, it is reasonable to believe that in ninety cases out of every hundred a cure can be effected, even when the patients have been given up as incurable by doctors who have had less experience. Do not be discouraged because your doctor cannot give you relief, or even if he tells you that you cannot get well, for it matters not what your disease may be, you can consult the doctors free, and, if curable, they will treat you; if incurable, they will give you such advice as will tend to prolong life and afford you the greatest relief.

The doctor will visit Middletown one day each month. Office hours from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m.

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.

The Democratic electors of the State of New York are requested to unite in sending three alternate delegates from each Assembly District to a State Convention, to be held at Saratoga Springs, on Tuesday, Sept 25th, 1894, at 12 o'clock noon, for the purpose of placing in nomination candidates to be voted for at the ensuing general election, and to transact such other business as may properly come before the convention

The Republicans of the Second Assembly District of Steuben county, Saturday, unanimously and enthusiastically instructed the delegates elected to the State Convention to support Fassett for Governor.

F. B. Vandigrift & Co., custom house brokers of 27 William street, New York, have published a hand book of the tariff of 1894, which gives in convenient form the rate of duty on the more than 12,000 articles named in the law. Copies of the book may be obtained of the publishers or the American News Company.

The Hay Trade Journal publishes reports on the hay crop from all sections of the United States, Canada and Europe which show a shortage of nine per cent. from an average crop. The only localities in the United States showing an increased acreage are Ohio and Michigan. Prices at the seaboard markets of the United States range from $9 to $17 a ton.

Three of the New Bedford mills, the Howland, the Roach, and the New Bedford Manufacturing Company, started up, this morning, on the old rate of wages. These bosses have been in haste to back down, and, what is most surprising, they are in strange hurry to get to work again under that "ruinously destructive Democratic tariff" as our Republican contemporaries call it.

Levi P. Morton, who arrived from Europe, yesterday, was greatly surprised to learn that the Republicans of this State were very far from being united in demanding that he run for Governor. He had been given to understand that there would be practically no opposition to his nomination and his fellow passengers are agreed in saying that he had decided to be a candidate, but when he found that there were half a score of Richmonds in the field, he shut up like an oyster and refused to say what he would or would not do until he had fully informed himself as to the situation. Assemblyman Howard Thornton, of Newburgh, who was a passenger with Mr. Morton on the Normandie and with whom Mr. Morton talked politics, says that his impression is that Mr. Morton will not be a candidate if there is any considerable opposition to his nomination.

DESPOTIC POWERS FOR STATE COMMISSIONS.

The Charities Committee of the Constitutional Convention is seeking to raise the State Board of Charities, the State Board of Prisons and the State Board of Lunacy to the sovereign dignity, importance and prerogatives of constitutional bodies; which means, lest some of our busy readers may underrate the full purport, that these bodies be made independent of legislative action and interference, and, consequently, a law unto themselves.

It was not in the nature of things that the Constitutional Convention was to be expected to exercise highest wisdom in all its deliberations and recommendations, but surely no sane man ever contemplated the possibility of such action as this at its hands, even in committee,—for it seems preposterous that the convention itself could ever countenance such an overthrow of government of the people, by the people, for the people,—such resurrection of despotic authority as this proposes.

Of course an inevitable effect of the adoption of this proposed amendment would be to root out the last semblance of that system of checks and balances in the administration of the affairs of the State's charitable institutions so admirably served by the existing system of local boards of trustees. The forms might in a sense be perpetuated, but under the operation of such Czarism as this, local government would be ground to powder.

Again: Office in any of these State boards under this amendment would virtually mean office for life, as the power of removal would not exist anywhere short of the courts upon conviction for criminal practices. To be sure, when twenty years have rolled around and another Constitutional Convention is assembled, remedy may be had by repeal or amendment, but are the people to wait twenty years to get rid of an incubus, to get back to Democratic-Republican forms?

THE NEW TARIFF.

Secretary Carlisle's Instructions to Collectors as Conclusive That the President Will Not Veto the Bill.

BY UNITED PRESS.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27.—The fact that Secretary Carlisle, this morning, sent out telegraphic instructions to collectors of customs, directing them what to do in regard to putting the tariff bill into effect, is looked upon in official circles here as a conclusive evidence that the President will not veto the bill.

Commissioner Miller of the Internal Revenue Bureau will also send out instructions to collectors of internal revenue, after 4 o'clock this afternoon.

The concensus of opinion still is that the bill will become a law without President Cleveland's signature by the operation of time limit at midnight, to-night.

Secretary Carlisle, this morning, decided that goods now in bond be entitled to the priveleges of the free list of the new tariff act.

THIS MORNING'S FIRE.

A Slight Blaze in the Residence of Hon. W. J. Groo.

At 8:15 this morning, an alarm was sounded from box 25, at the corner of North street and Wickham avenue. Fire was discovered in a clothes closet in the second story of the residence of ex-Judge W. J. Groo, on Linden avenue.

Phœnix Engine Company soon had a stream on the fire and the blaze was extinguished without much damage.

The origin of the fire is a mystery, but Mrs. Groo thinks that it may have been caused by her son, Stanley, who is very fond of playing with matches.

RUN DOWN BY EAGLES' TEAM.

The Horses Attached to the Patrol Wagon Climb Into Beasley's Baggage Wagon.

When the fire bell rang, this morning, Carl Johnson, the driver of the patrol wagon, was at breakfast, at the Commercial hotel, but before the bell ceased ringing he had his team out, but in his great haste, he failed to fasten one of the lines and had no control of the spirited team, which, as he left the house, tore away a portion of the door.

Unfortunately Sam Beasley's baggage express wagon was in front of the house at the time and the horses jumped into it and crushed both the wheels on one side.

Strange as it may seem, the horse attached to Mr. Beasley's wagon paid no more attention to the mishap than if it occurred regularly every few minutes, and stood quietly while Eagles' horses were being freed from the wreck.

Eagles' team behaved admirably and in a minute or two were disentangled from the wreck and on their way to the fire. With the exception of a few slight scratches, they were none the worse for the accident.

A BRUTAL ASSAULT.

A Young Gentleman Resents an Insult to a Lady and Is Attacked—Struck in the Face by a Stone and Badly Injured.

About 7 o'clock, Saturday evening, as Mr. John Yocum, son of ex-Congressman Yocum, of Pennsylvania, Mr. Carl Gildersleeve, of Pennsylvania, and a young lady were crossing the Erie tracks from the tennis grounds on Grove street to the residence of Mr. Yocum's grandfather, Mr. Charles Horton, on Roberts street, they met three young men, one of whom made an insulting remark. Mr. Yocum remonstrated with the man who had spoken, and in a moment two of them sprang upon him and commenced to pound him with their fists. Mr. Gildersleeve then took a hand in it, and one of the three young ruffians was getting considerably the worst of it, as the young gentlemen were both using their tennis rackets over his head.

Mr. Gurd Horton, an uncle of Mr. Yocum, appeared on the scene at this time and the fight was temporarily stopped, and while they were talking James Meidner, one of the trio, walked up to Mr. Yocum with a stone in his hand and without warning struck him a powerful blow full in the face, knocking him down and breaking his nose. His cowardly assailant then took to his heels. The others were held and arrested. They were recognized as George Kelly and J. Madison Shultz.

The other man, Meidner, was seen afterwards to board an east bound freight train. He is said to be a paroled prisoner from the Elmira Reformatory, having been sent there for nine years for striking a man over the head with a piece of lead pipe and relieving him of $200. He was released on parole for good behavior. His former home was at Goshen.

Kelly and Shultz were given a hearing this morning. The evidence as given by Mr. Horton and Mr. Yocum was sufficient to warrant the Recorder in holding Shultz for trial for assault in the third degree, but as neither complainant could swear that Kelly struck a blow or had made any insulting remarks, he was discharged.

Shultz's attorney, Mr. Herbert Gedney, demanded a jury trial, which was set down for 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. Owing to the delay in securing a jury the trial did not commence until a late hour, but is on as we go to press.

Mr. George H. Decker will prosecute the case for Mr. Yocum.

Mr. Yocum's face presented a terrible appearance this morning. His left eye was discolored and nearly closed; a deep cut is directly under it, and his nose is broken and swelled. His lips are also badly cut and swollen.

Shultz has a cut on the back of his head, received in the affray.

DID NOT KEEP THE $5 BILL.

The Recorder Finds Mrs. Barber's Charge Against William Harford, Jr., Not Proven.

The case of Mrs. Joseph Barber vs. William Harford, Jr., for the alleged stealing of a five dollar bill, which the plaintiff claims she gave the defendant, and which she alleges he failed to return, was tried before the Recorder this morning.

Many witnesses were heard, the testimony being given in Italian and interpreted by Mrs. Maggie Lucie.

The plaintiff claimed that she bought two pounds of steak for twenty-five cents and tendered a five dollar bill in payment. She testified that young Harford said he could not change the bill, whereupon she handed him a one dollar bill and he returned her three silver quarters in change, putting both bills in his pocket. She asked him for the five dollar bill and a quarrel ensued, and some of her friends tried to hold the horse and to detain young Harford, but he sprang upon the wagon and striking several of the women with the whip until they released their hold, drove rapidly away.

The defense was a general denial. Mr. Harford claimed that he had the five dollar bill in his pocket and when he pulled it out to put the one dollar bill with it, the woman claimed it.

The Recorder was inclined to believe the boy's story and he was dischared.

In the Hands of Creditors.

Mr. Oscar Dolson, as agent for creditors, took possession, to-day, of Mr. Robert A. Sayre's cigar store, No. 12 North street. New York parties, to whom Mr. Sayre was indebted, were crowding him, and to protect Slauson & Boyd, who had backed him since he started in business, he assigned to them.

THE OPENING OF MIDWAY PARK.

A Very Pronounced Success—A Good Crowd Present Afternoon and Evening—Only One Mishap—Scranton Militiamen Pleasantly Entertained.

The success which attended the formal opening of Midway Park was far beyond the most sanguine expectations of the promoters of that beautiful pleasure resort. It was thought that the vast crowds which had visited the park during the past two or three weeks would stay away, Saturday, to avoid the rush, but they were all on hand and double as many more. The lowest estimate that has been placed upon the crowd is 10,000, but it is safe to say there were many more than that number visited the park during the day. The crowd began to start for the park at an early hour, and each car during the day carried from 100 to 150 passengers, according to its capacity.

The dancing pavilion proved to be one of the greatest attractions. Bauer's band and orchestra, of Scranton, Pa., furnished the music and gave excellent satisfaction.

The Traction Company handled the great rush of travel in first class style, without serious delays or inconvenience, and without accident for which it or its employes were responsible, for although a boy was hurt, eye witnesses are agreed that he alone was to blame.

ONLY ONE MISHAP.

The boy, Fred Snyder, son of Engineer George M. Snyder, of 211 East Main street, fell from a car near the Gardner Farm, Saturday afternoon.

He had been skylarking on the side platform step, and had been told by Conductor Gus Person to get inside the car. He had obeyed the order, but continued to have his fun, and finally missed his footing and fell out, knocking Mr. Person off at the same time.

He was picked up and taken to his home, where Doctor Hulett dressed his injuries, which are not serious. Mr. Person was somewhat shaken by his fall, but continued on duty.

THE RUSH FOR HOME

During the early evening the cars from the Park carried light loads, but by 10 o'clock the rush for home began. When the dancing music stopped at midnight and the day's merry making was over, all wanted to leave the Park at once, and the cars were packed to their utmost capacity. The service was, however, so efficient and so many cars were run that the great crowd was handled without much difficulty. The last car left the Park at 1:30 o'clock.

About 2 o'clock a car was run over the city line to take to their homes the tired conductors, motormen and officers of the company, and employes of the road say that no such time was ever made in this city as that car made through the deserted streets.

ENTERTAINING THE SCRANTON MILITIAMEN.

Very little time was lost by the members of the two military organizations in making acquaintances, and the afternoon was most pleasantly spent at the park. At 6 o'clock a supper was served in the restaurant, to which the members of Company H. and the 24th, together with the guests from Scranton, were invited by the Traction Company.

In the evening most of the visitors remained at the park, where they enjoyed dancing until a late hour.

Others came to the city and took in the Black Crook dress rehearsal.

The members of Company H and a number of the 24th boys spent the night at the Armory.

At 6 o'clock reveille was sounded, and the boys descended to the basement, where an excellent breakfast of oatmeal, ham, eggs, potatoes, coffee and milk had been prepared.

Promptly at 7:30 the company was formed for the return trip, and in command of Second Lieutenant Corwin marched to the Wickham avenue depot, where a special train was in waiting.

FINANCIAL RESULTS.

Although it is impossible to obtain definite figures, the accounts not being as yet made up, it is certain that Capt. Jackson Post, which shared in the receipts of the restaurant, the stands and the boating and other privileges, realized from them and the dancing floor, which was managed by the Sons of Veterans, a very snug sum.

ANOTHER FACTORY BOOMING.

The New York Hat Works Also Doing a Big Business.

We mentioned, a few days ago, that immediately after the passage of the tariff bill the Wallkill Hat Works shipped more hats in a single day than in any day during the previous year. At that time we had not heard from the New York Hat Works, but we have since been informed that the shop is now doing more business than at any time in its history.

In fact the manufacturing establishments of this city are enjoying a boom, just such as the ARGUS has all along predicted when the McKinley tariff bill was repealed.

INCIDENTS AND HAPPENINGS IN GOSHEN.

Stable Room in Great Demand—Returned Home—Goshenites at Midway Park—Why Col. Wyker Grieves.

From Our Regular Correspondent

—The large number of horses here for the races makes it difficult to find stable room for them all. All available space in and around the track is occupied, while numerous private stables have been opened to provide quarters for the trotters.

—Mrs. H. B. Levy's sisters, Mrs. S. B. Mandle and Mrs. J. L. Danziger, who have been visiting here, have returned to their home in New York city.

—Two big carryalls took a crowd of Goshen people to Midway Park, yesterday.

—Col. Wyker grieves because the Orange County Fair is not in progress now, as he has some fine tomatoes in his garden, which would be sure of the first prize.

THE TROLLEY ROAD MAY GET TO GOSHEN.

A New Route Proposed to Which No Objections Can be Urged—Said to Meet With the Approval of the Trustees.

We are reliably informed that arrangements have been made by which the Middletown-Goshen Traction Company will secure an entrance into Goshen.

It is proposed that the road shall leave the highway near the Ryerson place on Golden Hill and go through the lands of the Ryerson farm, past the ice house property to the street on which the foundry is located, and along that street for a short distance and then through private lands to a point in the rear of the Erie depot, near Sanford's lumber yard.

We are informed that the proposed route meets with the favor of Goshen's village officials and that the objections to giving the road the right of way over the much traveled streets being all obviated, the objections that have heretofore been urged to the granting of the franchise will no longer be made and that the trustees will no longer withhold the franchise for which the Traction Company has so long asked in vain.

It may be said in this connection that there has been of late a great change in Goshen sentiment in regard to the trolley road and that many who were opposed to the road are now of the opinion that its construction would do the village more good than harm.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNICS AT MIDWAY PARK.

The Schools of Grace, St. Paul's, Zion and Bethel Churches of This City to Picnic There This Week—Big Sunday School Excursion from Along the Susquehanna and Western.

The Sunday school of Grace Church will enjoy its annual picnic at Midway Park on Friday next. Special cars for the scholars and other church members will leave the church at 10 a. m.

On Thursday of this week, St. Paul's Sunday School will picnic at Midway Park. All who will furnish provisions are requested to take them to the church on Wednesday afternoon, not later than 4 o'clock.

The Sunday School of the A. M. E. Zion Church has invited the Sunday School of the Bethel A. M. E. Church to join with it in its picnic at Midway Park, Wednesday, Aug. 29th. The invitation has been accepted. It is expected that the Goshen school will also be present. Singing and short addresses will add to the interest of the day.

On Friday there will be a big Sunday School excursion from points along the Susquehanna and Western to the Park. The schools advertised to participate are those at Hamburg, Deckertown, Unionville and Westtown.

A RETIRED BUSINESS WOMAN.

A Page From Her History.

The important experiences of others are interesting. The following is no exception: "I had been troubled with heart disease 25 years, much of that time very seriously. For five years I was treated by one physician continuously. I was in business, but obliged to retire on account of my health. A physician told my friends that I could not live a month. My feet and limbs were badly swollen, and I was indeed in a serious condition when a gentleman directed my attention to Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure, and said that his sister, who had been afflicted with heart disease, had been cured by the remedy, and was again a strong, healthy woman. I purchased a bottle of the Heart Cure, and in less than one hour after taking the first dose I could feel a decided improvement in the circulation of my blood. When I had taken three doses I could move my ankles, something I had not done for months and my limbs had been swollen so long that they seemed almost petrified. Before I had taken one bottle of the New Heart Cure the swelling had all gone down, and I was much better than I had for my own [illegible] immediate relief and [illegible] Mrs. Morgan [illegible] Harrison Ave., Chicago, Ill.

FLOUNDER STRIKING.

A SPORT OF THE NEGROES OF THE SOUTHERN COAST.

It Puzzles a White Man, but the Darky Can Hit a Flounder With His Spear Where You Would See Only Mud—The Expert Fisherman Never Misses His Fish.

Did you ever "strike" a flounder? Probably not unless you have lived or passed some time on the coast of the southern states.

One lovely August evening, just before sunset, as I stood on the back porch of our summer home on the coast of South Carolina, I noticed that our boy Bob, a great big black cheerful looking fellow about 19 years old, as lazy a rascal and as big a thief as his whole race could produce, seemed to be very busy over a boat at the little wharf only a short distance from the house, and as I stood there watching him the mystery was explained.

Noticing that I was watching him with a good deal of interest, he came up to the steps, and removing the tattered rim of what was once a felt hat said:

"Boss man, I'ze goin 'strikin' flounder tonight. Like to go 'long? It's easy 'nuff," he said. "Jest put on ole close that don't matter 'bout wettin, and I'll call for you after supper."

After having finished supper and enjoyed a cigar and a stroll on the beach, watching the bathers in the surf and spying a distant sail on the horizon, I proceeded to dress for the occasion. Taking Bob's advice, I selected an old pair of baseball shoes, an ancient pair of cadet trousers that had stood the test of many a dress parade—a relic of my "rat" year—a cap of the same description and a flannel shirt and a heavy coat, for it was cool on the water after sunset, even in mid-summer, not forgetting to take a good supply of tobacco and a pipe to keep off the gnats and sand flies and a plug of chewing tobacco for my companion. Negroes always claim to be out when a white man is around.

I joined Bob at the back door, and we made our way down to the landing. Here we found a large flat bottomed scow, on one side of which was fixed an old grate, in which a fire was burning fiercely, while at the other end was a huge pile of dry oak, with plenty of fat pine for kindling. Standing in the boat was a colored boy of about the same size and blackness of my attendant, whom Bob designated to me as "my mammy's sister Sally's boy Rufe."

Greeting the grinning Rufus, who replied by scraping the bottom of the boat with one foot, while he touched where his hat would have been had he worn any, for no such article encumbered his woolly crown, we all made ourselves comfortable, Bob standing at the bow, Rufus at the stern, with a pole, while I was invited to take the middle seat near the fire and requested to keep the boat clear of water, which as soon as we began our journey rushed through the many crevices with astonishing rapidity.

The night was very dark, but lighted by our fire we began to follow the shore, and our flat bottom enabled us to keep in very close. And now came to me what was the strangest part of the proceeding. Bob, standing, as I have said, in the bow, armed with a striking pole, which is simply a heavy rod about 8 feet long, with a two pronged fork at one end, kept his eyes fixed on the water, which was brightly lit up for several feet in front of the boat, while he held the pole raised in his right hand. All at once, and without a word, he suddenly thrust the pole into the water in front of him, and with a chuckle of triumph dashed the pole into the bottom of the boat, and struggling and splashing around was a dark flat object about a foot long, with two great gaping wounds made by the prongs of the fork. The flounder was exactly the color of the bottom of the water and very flat, and how on earth anybody, even a hungry negro, could distinguish it with the boat going at a pretty rapid rate was something I could not make out and have never been able to fathom.

To be sure, the water was quite shallow, ranging in depth from 1 to 2½ feet, and the light from the fire was very bright, but when you take into consideration the fact that the soil was almost black and very muddy and soft, and that the fish almost bury themselves therein, it will be seen that it requires no small amount of skill and quickness to detect the flounder with the boat being rapidly poled along.

And I never saw Bob miss. It would be natural to suppose that the "striker" would occasionally mistake some object for a flounder in waters that teemed with all kinds of fish, or that sometimes he would fail to secure the fish, even if he struck correctly, for it is a known fact that "the biggest fish I ever caught was the one that got away;" but, no, I never knew Bob or any of the other many negroes whom I afterward saw out "striking" to be guilty of failure. Sometimes the flounder would be pierced by only one prong instead of two, and sometimes the wound would be very near the side of the fish, but secure him they always did.

That night we were out about two hours and secured eight of as fine flounders as I ever saw, ranging in size from 10 to 15 inches, three of which furnished a very fine breakfast dish the next morning.—Philadelphia Times.

Quality Against Quantity.

As regards woman suffrage, New York, with all its fashionable furore, is still in the stage of the agitation—passed years ago in Boston—where the "antis" seek to make an impression by claiming "quality against quantity" of names in their petitions. To put forward the best is a clear boast was soon found to be very indiscreet campaigning in New England and a powerful help to the other side.—Boston Transcript.

ANGELIC TEMPERS.

A CARLOAD OF TRAVELERS AND NOT A KICKER AMONG THEM.

They Had to Change Sleepers In the Middle of the Night, and Yet They Remained Good Humored—This Was an Exceptional Party, Even For Americans.

"Although Americans have the reputation of being born kickers," said the traveler, "once in awhile they give surprising exhibitions of philosophy and good nature.

"On a hot night I started on a trip up the state. I had been careful to engage my berth in the morning and had selected it in the center of the car, so I felt assured that I would be reasonably comfortable. It so happened that travel was heavy that night, and my car was crowded. To my great disgust, too, it was a very old car. I am too old a traveler to fret, however, and I went into the smoker with a calm mind. The train rolled out, and soon the porter began to make up the beds. We all turned in early, and I was in my berth before the train had got far beyond Mott Haven.

"I adjusted everything carefully, removed all my clothes, donned some nice cool pajamas and lay back on my pillow sleepily. I had just begun to doze off when I was aroused by a queer, rumbling noise. It sounded as though something was the matter with the running gear. I listened for awhile and then closed my eyes again, thinking perhaps that the noise would stop. It didn't, though, and presently others appeared to be disturbed also. Heads were poked out between the curtains, and passengers asked each other what the trouble was. The porter was summoned and interrogated, but he knew nothing that could enlighten us and said he was sure it was nothing serious. By and by some of the calmer spirits like myself felt reassured and dropped off to sleep in spite of the noise and jolting.

"I was in the midst of a dream about falling elevators and similar pleasant fancies when I was awakened by somebody yanking at my arm. It was the porter.

"'I am sorry to trouble you, boss,' he said, 'but one of the wheels on this car has gone wrong, and the conductor is afraid we will have a smashup if we don't take the car off. You'll have to get up and get out, for we are going to run this car into the shop and put on another.'

"Naturally I felt a little annoyed. When a man is sleepy, he doesn't like to be told he has got to get up and dress and fuss and bother. It isn't the easiest thing in the world to sleep in a stuffy car on a hot night anyhow, and interruptions are not apt to compose the mind. However, there was no use of kicking, and so I got up and dressed as quickly as I could, gathered my traps together and prepared to move. The car was full of people in various stages of undress, and it took some little time to clear them all out so that the car could be taken off the train. We found ourselves at Albany. We had to wait on the platform for nearly half an hour while the car was rolled back out of the way and another one brought out of the yard.

"If the first sleeper had been old, this one was antique. It must have been one of the first of the Wagners to be put in service. It was smaller and had fewer berths than the other car, and as it hadn't been cleaned for some time it was very dirty. Every time we touched anything our hands were covered with dust. We stood around while the conductor tried to arrange for our accommodation, and as the berths were differently arranged this took some time. In the meantime the train had started again.

"The conductor was an amiable person and tried hard to hurry things as much as possible, which relieved the situation a great deal. In allotting space to us he came finally to an old gentleman who lived up in the country. 'I am very sorry,' he said to him, 'but I'll have to put you, sir, in the stateroom. There are no more berths left.' It occurred to all simultaneously, I guess, that that meant an extra charge. 'Great Scott!' exclaimed the old gentleman, 'have I been yanked out of my sleep and put to all this discomfort to be compelled to pay double fare? 'Oh, of course not!' said the conductor. 'Inasmuch as it is our fault, we won't charge you extra fare.' The old man smiled broadly at that, for the idea of having a stateroom all to himself was naturally agreeable, but when he came to find out later that the stateroom included the washroom and was anything but pleasant to sleep in his smile became rather sickly. After awhile things were straightened out, but it was fully an hour from the time we left Albany before we had turned into our berths again.

"Naturally you would imagine that everybody would have been ill tempered after all this fuss, but the truth is I never saw a jollier lot of people in all my travels. Of course sleep was impossible for most of us after all this disturbance, so we kept up a running fire of conversation. Jokes were rattled off in a delightfully impromptu fashion, and everybody who had had any experience on sleeping cars recounted them to the edification of the others. Although we did not have any sleep, about every one who left the car the next morning wore a broad, good humored smile."—New York Sun.

She Served as a Soldier.

The late Colonel Burnaby told of the discovery of a woman who served as a soldier in the ranks of the army of Don Carlos in 1874. She wore the uniform and lived and fought just as the other soldiers, but a priest in whose parish she had lived identified her. Don Carlos removed her to the nurses' quarters, but she begged to be sent back to the ranks.

He laughed. "Not to the regiment of men, but when I form a battalion of women you shall be colonel."—London Truth.

DORRIS' SHOE STRINGS.

On Dorris' feet
Are the smallest of twos,
But surely some elf
Has enchanted her shoes,
For, wherever we go,
Walk, row or ride,
In church or at tennis,
Her shoes come untied.

At times it is trying,
But what can I do
When I, or Dorris murmurs,
"Oh, bother that shoe!"
So down I must flop
In the dirt and dirt
To tie up the shoe
Of that dear little flirt.

These precious gall tyrants!
We cannot resist,
For even the ribbons
Are filled with their spell.
Since old lash and aprons
No longer they wear,
They tie a good many
To the strings of their shoes.

BAKERS' BREAD.

A Few Facts About a Somewhat Familiar Article of Food.

Styles change in bread, as in everything else, and shapes that were more or less familiar 10 years ago are now not made at all. Every baker tries to have something distinctive about his output, and almost every baker thinks his bread is the best. So everybody who buys bakers' bread knows there is really a great difference in it in appearance and in taste. The housewife makes wheat bread of one kind of flour; the baker makes it generally of three—two brands of spring wheat flour and one of winter wheat, mixed, with the result of making a finer, whiter, smoother loaf. Bakers do not all agree as to the exact proportions in which these flours should be mixed.

Graham flour is made of the entire grain of the wheat ground up together; gluten flour of that part of the wheat grain which contains the gluten. Rye graham flour is made of the entire grain of the rye; the rye flour used in the ordinary rye bread is usually mixed with wheat flour in proportions varying from a little wheat up to half wheat. Of the bread sold in American bakeries about 85 per cent is wheat, the remaining 15 per cent being divided about equally among graham, rye and gluten. In German bakeries the proportion of rye bread sold is very much greater.

Bakers are all the time getting up new shapes in bread, and there can scarcely be said to be any absolutely standard form, though there are some that are practically so—the oblong, the round, the long, round, French stick, Vienna stick and Vienna loaf. There are now about 15 shapes that are more or less commonly sold. And these breads are made of about as many different kinds of dough. For instance, there is a New England dough, a Vienna dough, and so on, each being composed of a different blend of materials and mixed and handled differently.

Perhaps as nearly standard as any of these shapes is the one known as New England. This is an oblong loaf with square corners. Almost all of these breads are made in different sizes. The New England is made in at least five, which are sold at 5 cents, 5 cents, 10 cents, 25 cents and 30 cents. Usually the 30 cent loaf is made to weigh a trifle more than three 10 cent loaves would weigh. The smallest sized New England loaf is the one most sold, as is the case with all breads made in sizes, but the 5 cent and 10 cent loaves are in large demand, and there is a steady sale for the loaves at 25 and 30 cents. The larger of the two big loaves is sometimes cut in two and sold in halves. The big loaves are sold to boarding houses and to private families also. Some folks like a crust, and some like the inside. The big loaves are especially desirable for those who like the inside. They have proportionately to weight less crust than the smaller loaves, and they can be so cut as to be served in almost any form that may be desired, with crust or without.

Breads for hotels and restaurants are generally made in special shapes. They use a shape corresponding to New England, and many restaurants that don't want so much crust take a bread that is made in loaves about 18 inches in length, and not very wide, baked not separately, but laid close together, so that the loaves have crust on the ends only. Some hotels buy this kind of bread, but hotels generally use more French bread and Vienna sticks. Taking all the people together, old and young, it is probable that about three-quarters like their bread crusty.—New York Sun.

The Hair.

The roots of the hair are each supplied with a blood vessel of its own and with proper nerves, though the latter do not extend into the hair itself. On the health of the roots of the hair the whole growth depends. On either side of the root and a little above it are two small glands, which secrete an oily substance that gives gloss to the hair, and the glands serve to protect the roots of the hair from becoming clogged with dust. Each separate hair is a hollow tube and through its length is conveyed the food essential to health and growth. —Pittsburg Dispatch.

STATE OF NEW YORK,
Office of the Secretary of State,

ALBANY, AUGUST 4, 1894.

Pursuant to the provisions of section seven, chapter six hundred and eighty, Laws of eighteen hundred and ninety-two, notice is hereby given that the following proposed amendment to article six of the Constitution of the state of New York will be submitted to the people of the said State, for the purpose of voting thereon at the next general election in this State, to be held on the sixth day of November, eighteen hundred and ninety-four.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION.

Proposing amendment to article six of the Constitution of this State in relation to County Judges and Court of Sessions in the county of Kings.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly do enact as follows:

Whereas, At the last session of the Legislature, the following amendment was proposed in the Senate and Assembly, viz:

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That article six of the Constitution of this state be amended by adding thereto the following section:

"§ 32. There shall be in the county of Kings two county judges, each of whose term of office shall be six years. The county judge in office at the adoption of this amendment shall hold office until the expiration of the term for which he was elected. The additional county judge shall be elected at the general election held next after the adoption of this amendment, and his term of office shall begin on the first day of January thereafter. When the official term of any county judge of said county will expire by the effluxion of time or the disability of age, the successor of such judge shall be chosen at the preceding general election. Vacancies otherwise occuring in said offices shall be filled in the same manner as vacancies in the Supreme Court. The salary of said county judge shall be as now established by law for county judge in said county. Their powers and jurisdiction shall be co-ordinate and co-equal. One or more parts of the county court may be held in said county. The court of sessions in the county of Kings is continued with the powers and jurisdiction it now posses-es, and with such additional powers and jurisdiction as may be conferred by the Legislature; it must be held by a county judge of the county, and may hold one or more parts."

And whereas, The said proposed amendment was agreed to by a majority of the members elected to each of the two houses of the said Legislature, entered on the journals, with the yeas and nays taken thereon, and referred to the Legislature to be chosen at the then next general election of senators.

And, whereas, Such election has taken place and said proposed amendment was duly published for three months previous to the time of making such choice, in pursuance of the provisions of article thirteen of the Constitution; therefore,

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the Assembly do agree to the proposed amendment.

STATE OF NEW YORK, IN SENATE, April 26, 1894.

This bill was read the third time and passed, a majority of all the Senators elected voting in favor thereof, three-fifths being present.

By order of the Senate,
WILLIAM F SHEEHAN, President.

STATE OF NEW YORK, IN ASSEMBLY, April 17, 1894.

This bill was read the third time and passed, a majority of all the members elected to the assembly voting in favor thereof, three-fifths being present.

By order of the Assembly,
GEORGE R. MALBY, Speaker.

STATE OF NEW YORK, OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE. } ss:

I have compared the preceding copy of concurrent resolution, proposing an amendment to article six of the Constitution with the original concurrent resolution on file in this office, and I do hereby certify that the same is a correct transcript therefrom, and of the whole thereof. Did You Get Your Share of the Beer—Woodcock Hunting Within the City Limits—Poor Guesses at the Size of Saturday's Crowd at Midway Park.

Statistics compiled in Vienna show that in 1893 the world's total consumption of beer, not including Asia and Africa, was 4,500,000,000 gallons. Germany heads the list with 1,202,132,074 gallons. or thirty-three gallons for each man, woman and child of the population. The Bavarians get more than their share, having consumed sixty-two gallons per head, while the dwellers in Lothringen drank but twelve gallons each. Great Britain consumed 1,165,758,000 gallons, or thirty per head. America, including the whole western hemisphere, got away with over a billion gallons, or sixteen per head. This grouping of the United States with Central and South America, in which comparatively little beer is used, does a great injustice to the beer drinking capacity of our people, for if this country's beer consumption had been figured out by itself it would have placed the United States close to Great Britain in the quantity allotted to each individual.

While hunters who are not versed in the ways of the elusive woodcock go far afield and return with empty bags, their wiser brethren hunt within the city limits and get birds enough for a savory bite if not for a game dinner. On Saturday, for instance, four woodcock were, to my certain knowledge, killed within the city's metes and bounds, two near the willows along Monhagen Brook in the vicinity of the old Pleasure Grounds and two on the State Hospital grounds. In one way it's no great point in favor of a city that it has woodcock covers within its limits, but looked at in another way its quite an attraction and I haven't any doubt, taxes and other things being equal, that many a man in search of a place of residence would give the preference to a town which, like Middletown, is able to round out its list of good schools, good churches, good stores, good newspapers and so on with good woodcock shooting.

A good illustration of the unreliability of popular guesses at the size of crowds, was afforded, Saturday and yesterday, by the estimates that were made of the number of people at Midway Park. Long before six o'clock, Saturday, I was told over and over again that at least 10,000 people were on the grounds and some raised the limit to 12,000 and 15,000. It didn't seem possible for it was evident that there were a few of us left in Middletown. Yesterday morning, I was told by those who professed to know, that the railroad had carried over 15,000 passengers. Capt. Rockwell, Manager of the road, cuts this estimate down very materially, for he says that the registers show that 9,680 fares were collected Saturday. Some of these were from passengers who did not go outside of the city and if we offset these against the members of the G. A. R., Sons of Veterans and the militia companies, who were carried free, we have at the outside, 10,000 people at the park. And when you think of it 10,000 people is a pretty good gala day turnout from a city of say 14,000 inhabitants.

DIED FROM FRIGHT.

A Suffern Woman Dies from the Shock of Seeing a Road Accident.

While J. D. Campbell, of near Suffern, was driving along the Erie track, Saturday afternoon, his horses took fright at the fast St. Louis express and bolted, but did not run away. The sudden stoppage of the carriage, threw to the ground Miss Ella Beall and Miss Josie Haffey, of New York, who were on the rear seat, and Miss Beall sustained serious injuries.

The accident occurred directly in front of the residence of Mrs. R. H. L Rothe, a well known and highly respected lady, who was looking out of the window at the time. She was so overcome by the accident that she fell to the floor and died almost instantly from fright.

THE ODD FELLOWS' CLAM BAKE.

A Very Large Crowd Expected at Midway Park To-morrow—All Preparations Complete.

The members of Middletown Lodge No. 112, I. O. O. F., anticipate a big time at their clam bake at Midway Park, to-morrow. The large crowd which was present at the park Saturday and yesterday, leads them to believe that an equally large crowd will desire to eat clams along the banks of the Wallkill in the cosy retreat which has been prepared for the purpose.

The railroads will all sell excursion tickets from the surrounding villages.

The first bake will be served at 2:30, and the evening bake at 7:30, and the managers desire us to say that they will be served on time.

UP THE MIDLAND.

Kicking Against Island Park Management—Did Not Like the New Church—The Rockland-Roscoe Review—Up Midland Hired Men—Too Many Cemeteries—Scarcity of Milk—Lots of Litigation Ahead—The Soldiers' Reunion—Three Weeks More of Dry Weather.

Correspondence ARGUS and MERCURY.

—The chances are that Jack Sherwood bit off more than he could chew when he charged for the privilege of seeing the ball play. Not only do those who attended talk long and loud over such treatment but some of the conductors think that they have held their clam bakes at the Manor long enough. The kickers should bear in mind that Mr. Sherwood owns Island Park and if they don't want to pay for the music they should stay away.

—An Up Midland man, a devout christian in his way, recently boarded up one of the windows in his house. It came about this way. A new church was built directly in front of his house, and every time he looked out of that particular window the new church stood in plain sight, and as it was of a different creed from that which he held it made him nervous. It makes a great difference with the most of us in what particular mill we get our religious grist ground.

—The Rockland-Roscoe Review is now one of the permanent establishments of Western Sullivan. Its publishers, Dodge & Bennett, have lots of money and are making a strong push for empire. The paper is ably edited and is free from the slang and abuse too often found in country papers. It is deserving of the hearty support of all who live in its vicinity.

—Forest fires are all along the line and are doing a great deal of damage. Not only do these fires run in the woods but they run over the meadows and pastures, and burn very deep, too.

—When I read the remarks of your Man Off Duty about the Winterton hired man cutting brush, on Sunday, it set me to thinking perhaps our Up Midland hired men are, as a rule, more trusty than the Simon pure Orange county article, as I know of numerous instances where Orange county farm hands have squealed on their employers for watering their milk. To prove this we have the present case the of Winterton man, and I know of another young man up this way who took to watering milk on his own account, and when caught gave as a reason that he wanted to earn his wages. I venture to say that not more than one in ten of your Orange county farm hands are willing to earn the wages paid them.

—The dead of Roscoe are having a tough time of it, as their living friends wont let them rest in peace, but keep moving them from one cemetery to another as fast as a new one is started. Unless the angel Gabriel keeps pretty good track of the dead up here he will have trouble to find them at the last day. Four grave yards are too much for a small village.

—As the demand for milk is greater than the supply, and farmers are already compelled to feed their cows as much as during the winter months owing to the drouth, the Milk Exchange Limited has no excuse for not putting the price up a cent a quart, September 1st.

—The old adage that "it never rains but it pours" seems to hold good in the case of the Cowan Water Company, which has for some time past been operating up this way. Proceedings have, or will be, begun against them for turning the water out of its natural channels at Livingston Manor. It is held as good law that no one can divert water from its natural course to the detriment of those below.

—It looks now as if the Sullivan county soldiers' reunion at Rockland, Aug. 30th, will be badly crippled on account of the circus at Liberty, and the special town meeting at Livingston Manor.

—An old Delaware raftsman, who has from the nature of his calling been a close observer of the weather, says there will be no rain of any consequence until the sun has crossed the line. As that occurs about Sept. 20th, it will be seen that it may be a week before or a week after. The gentleman prides himself on being way up as a weather expert and requests every reader of this paper to stick a pin here and see how it comes out

NEWBURGH'S ANNUAL BUDGET.

The Amount Over $170,000 for All Purposes.

Newburgh's Common Council on Friday evening made up the annual budget, which amounts to $170,795.36, a sum that would make Middletown taxpayers feel very sick.

Of this sum, $64,043 81 is for the Board of Education.

The Trouble Over.

A prominent man in town exclaimed the other day: "My wife has been wearing out her life from the effects of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint and Indigestion. Her case baffled the skill of our best physicians. After using three packages of Bacon's Celery King for the Nerves she is almost entirely well." Keep your blood in a healthy condition by the use of this great vegetable compound. Call at John J. Chambers, 21 West Main Street opp. Runyons grocery, sole agent, and get a trial package free. INSTRUCTION IN MUSIC

Commencing first week in Sept. The study of voice development involves a far more important fact than concert singing, requiring a correct use of the lungs and throat, on which, in very many cases, one's health depends. The practice of singing correctly is calculated to bring about the healthy action and development of muscles which other use would have lain dormant, and the breathing exercises are of incalculable value to those inclined to pulmonary weakness. Write me or call at Middletown Music store and have time assigned you for a trial lesson, free.
